

LOOKS Like Albuquerque could congratulate herself on her climate again.

The Evening Herald

WHAT the Y. M. C. A. really needs is your unpaid subscription.

TRIBUNE-CITIZEN.
Vol. 26, No. 56.

ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO, THURSDAY, JANUARY 13, 1916.

THE EVENING HERALD
VOL. 5, NO. 248

DEVELOPMENTS IN SITUATION AS TO MEXICO MOVE RAPIDLY

Capture of General Jose Rodriguez. Arrival of Bodies of Victims of Massacre and Other Events Stir Public.

MANY NEW OUTRAGES TOLD OF IN RUMORS

Unconfirmed Reports Detail Killing of Ten Americans and Two English Women Near Madera Recently.

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire)
El Paso, Tex., Jan. 13.—Developments in the Mexican situation made with railroads rapidly here to day.

Public feeling stirred by the arrival of the bodies of eighteen victims of the raid of Villa bandits at Santa Isabel Monday was further moved by the reported capture of General Jose Rodriguez. A message from Madero announced his capture and the dispersion of his band by Americans and a few Carranza soldiers and contained an appeal from Americans for help from whatever quarter it came.

Reports to the state department from local representatives were forwarded to express the belief that General Francisco Villa personally was back of an organized campaign to wipe out Americans in Chihuahua for revenue and in the hope that it would bring American intervention and break up the Carranza government.

Activities in civilian circles indicated a movement to organize 1,000 American mining men to run down Mexican bandits. Sponsors of the project stated the proposal would be submitted to Carranza officials and their approval requested.

A telegram appealing to Theodore Roosevelt to use his influence with congress to bring a change in the policy of the national government was circulated among bankers and business men with the promise that none having interests in Mexico be permitted to sign it.

The report from Chihuahua that ten Americans and two English women had been killed at Madera could not be confirmed here, neither was there any appeal from Americans for help from whatever quarter it came.

Much suffering has been reported throughout this section and wire service is badly demoralized.

70 Mile Wind Bears Chilly Weather East From Pacific

Cold Wave Touches All Parts of Country, Fringe Even Reaching to Gulf of Mexico on the South.

UNUSUALLY LOW MARKS REACHED IN NORTHWEST

Air Currents Diminishing and Is Believed Worst of Storm Has Passed; Mercury Slowly Rising in Places.

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire)

Kansas City, Jan. 13.—The great cold wave, born from the northwest on the wings of a seventy-mile wind, stretched itself out all over the southwest today and dipped its southern fringe into the gulf of Mexico. Temperatures ranged from 22 degrees below zero at Omaha, Neb., to 26 degrees above at Corpus Christi, Texas. Yesterday Corpus Christi was basking in sunshine with the mercury at 22 degrees. Yesterday too had a strip of 28 overnight.

With diminishing winds, the worst of the storm has passed, according to the local weather bureau. This morning there were no strong winds and the observer saw a slowly ascending temperature.

STORM CONTINUES IN THE MIDDLE WEST STATES

Chicago, Jan. 13.—The storm which began yesterday in the middle west continued today, snow, high wind and low temperatures prevailing over the Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, the Dakotas, Minnesota, and Wisconsin.

From the Canadian northwest there also came reports of unusually low temperatures. The thermometer at Prince Albert, Sask., went to 25 below zero.

SIoux FALLS COLDER THAN FOR MANY YEARS

Sioux Falls, S. D., Jan. 13.—Thirty-three degrees below zero was the temperature officially recorded here last night, the coldest for several years. Robert Jackson, a farmer living near Salem, was found dead in his buggy and his companion, badly frozen, was found lying on the ground nearby.

Much suffering has been reported throughout this section and wire service is badly demoralized.

LAST NIGHT COLDEST RECORDED WINTER

The thermometer last night registered 4 degrees above zero at the Rio Grande Industrial school, reporting station for this city. This was the coldest weather of the winter.

Today to trains continued all eastbound trains except the coddle train, left being late. No. 7 this morning was two hours behind time. No. 15, the westbound De Lavea, was over that and late, not arriving here until 12 o'clock, and No. 3, the California pinhook, was within an hour and a half late at La Junta but made on the delay.

The De Lavea carried forty-nine passengers today.

Scarlet Fever at Santa Cruz

Santa Fe, N. M., Jan. 13.—Word has reached here of the appearance of seven cases of scarlet fever at Santa Cruz and the health authorities have advised the closing of the schools there. Two children have died of typhoid fever at El Rio.

Two Tremblers Are Recorded At Georgetown

Pair of Heavy Shocks Registered by Seismograph at Eastern University About 2,600 Miles From Capital.

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire)

Washington, Jan. 13.—Secretary Lansing today gave another warning to Americans in Mexico to leave any district where "there is revolutionary trouble."

The secretary stated that so far the steps taken by the Carranza government on the American representation appeared to be satisfactory. He added that the United States would expect evidence of punishment of the officials who aided the Americans near Chihuahua, and that the evidence would depend on the circumstances.

Secretary Lansing said if former and new steps were not taken to some insight arise between the United States and the Carranza government. His statement was regarded as significant of the determination of the United States to enforce protection for its citizens in Mexico.

The first tremors were recorded at 2:04 a. m. They continued until 3 o'clock, reaching their maximum of about 2,120 o'clock. The second disturbance commenced at 3:45 a. m. and continued until after 6 o'clock, its maximum being reached at 4:21 a. m.

The greatest movement during both disturbances was north and south. The disturbances were not equally loud and determination of the location of the centers of the disturbance was impossible. It is considered probable the quake is one of those which have been shaking Central America for some weeks.

TEN AMERICANS AND TWO ENGLISH WOMEN ARE KILLED

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 13.—A report was current in Chihuahua that ten Americans and two English women had been killed by Villa troops at Madera, Chihuahua, according

Club Attains a 50 percent Gain Within a Month

Rolls Carried 220 Members on December 13; 360 Today; Drive for New Material Has Good After Effects.

That the Commercial club has attained an increase in membership of over 50 per cent within a month was shown by figures made public today by Manager R. W. Wiley.

On December 13 there were 220 members on the rolls that were considered "good." Today there are 360.

Mr. Wiley averred the gain directly to the drive for an increased membership made just month; the actual increase itself bearing in a considerable number of new men and there having been a consistent increase from day to day and week to week ever since.

Mr. Wiley declared that the financial report for the last six months showed the club just about "broke even" on the basis of memberships as of December 13. Hence, he said, "I believe we are justified in expecting a surplus for the next six months because of the increase."

Maximo Marquez, Left to Protect Madera Interests, With About 125 Men from This Country, Makes Prisoner.

FORCES SCATTERED,
KILLED, OR PRISONERS

Arrangements Made for Bringing Citizens of This Country from Parral on Special Trains Immediately.

(By Evening Herald Leased Wire)

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 13.—General Jose Rodriguez has been captured near Madera, by a number of Americans.

The capture was made by Maximiliano Marquez, an employee of the Hearst interests at Parral, who is now at Madera keeping in order with about 125 Americans and a few Carranza soldiers. The message stated that Rodriguez was met in a pitched battle defeated and his men scattered, captured and killed. The Americans sent an urgent request for help from whatever quarter it came.

A message received from Madero stated that a number of Rodriguez men were killed and that the Americans are calling for him.

General Jose Rodriguez was charged in first reports with responsibility for the massacre of the Americans at Santa Isabel. Reports of Mexicans or the train chartered General Reyna, Colonel Pablo Lopez and General Peiran with the personal direction.

Declarations from events in Chihuahua from local representatives to the state department belie this.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

Declarations from events in Chihuahua from local representatives to the state department belie this.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for us to maintain our equilibrium and our good sense. These are sentiments which our citizens on the border have been witnessing for the past five years, but now that so many homes in El Paso have been robbed of their fathers and brothers, it may be that the voice of our citizens will be louder and some relief given to those of us who live on the border and have faced the same trials with the personal direction.

At this time, when our hearts are cold with horror at the unspeakable crime committed against our citizens, it is unquestionably the time for